Narberth Aims to End Title Series Sunday

Holds Two-to-One Edge on Brookline in League Playoff

REYNOLDS IS CHOICE

By JOHN MULLIGAN
Determined to end the 1936 Little World Series in four games, Narberth will tangle with Brookline on the borough playground Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock sharp.

Gene Davis' defenders of the championship, are out front in the five-game playoff series, two victories to one. A decision in their favor would shove baseball into the background for another year.

League officials decided to have the fourth game here on the Sabbath instead of tomorrow so that football would not interfere with the fans who wish to attend both brands of sport.

Gaining a split for the double-bill played last week-end gives Narberth the reins as they await the crucial fourth battle. Gene's warriors lost on Saturday by a 7-5 score when their "high school" fielding threw the game to Brookline. Great improvement on defense was flashed a day later when Narberth nipped Eddie Hare's gang, 1-0. However, even at that, the home-town was a bit lucky in scoring the big marker.

Reynolds Again

Al Herrmann was charged with the defeat and Bill Reynolds got credit for his second straight shutout win over the Haremen when he gave another stellar exhibition on the mound. Herrmann, like Kenzie Woelfel, the visiting chucker, didn't go the route. Both were taken out in the eighth. Reynolds finished for Herrmann and George Severn was in there for Brookline.

Severn came back for Sunday's game and for the second time pitched well, yet lost. He is Hare's probable choice for this Sunday's tilt and Reynolds is certain to draw the starting assignment for Davis & Company.

The less said about that 7-5 game the better. Narberth committed no less than eight miscues and Brookline was guilty of half as many. Brookline scored four runs in a big sixth inning uprising to take the lead and keep it. After giving up a one-run edge earned in the second, when Narberth scored two in its fourth, Brookline came on fast to sew up the game. Two final markers were added in the eighth, making Brookline a certain winner.

Narberth Postmaster Offers Tracer Service to Check Mail That Goes Astray

At the June meeting of Narberth Business Council several members complained that third-class advertising matter and also postal cards, mailed at the Narberth postoffice, were not being delivered.

Monday night at the first organization meeting since then, Narberth's postmaster, Joseph L. Kelley, asked that members give him specific cases of non-delivery and delayed delivery and he would put tracers on each such piece of mail.

A discussion among members indicated that the trouble seemed to lie in mail addressed to persons whose mail is finally delivered through Philadelphia branch offices. The change from the old to the new main city building was thought, perhaps, to have caused some of the trouble.

Postmaster Kelley promised to take up the matter of service with the postal inspectors.

Rod and Gun Club Men Enjoy Sports and Picnic

Ernest Jenkins, of Narberth, proved most versatile of the winners at the Lower Merion Rod and Gun Club annual fall outing at the Ridgway farm, Bethayres, Saturday. He captured the water-boiling, surf-casting and bait-casting events.

The fly-casting event was won by the president, John A. Miller, of Narberth, while George Floyd, of Penn Valley, took honors in the junior water-boiling contest.

J. McGovern, Bryn Mawr, won the rifle shoot; Joseph P. White, Narberth, captured the pistol shoot, while victor in the trapshoot was Wayne D. Burnside, Bala-Cynwyd.

The day closed with a picnic supper.

Narberth's Solons Good On Routine, But Lack Vision, Says Civic Leader

That Narberth Borough Council is efficient in matters of garbage and ash collection and street repairs, but lacking in broad community vision is the opinion of J. J. Cabrey, civic leader, who Tuesday addressed the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club.

"We have a corned-beef-and-cabbage governing body," he said, "but they have never been interested in dessert. The outstanding civic improvements have been the result of the efforts of the citizens. Due to our independent government there are many additional opportunities for improvement which should be looked into."

For one thing, Mr. Cabrey would like to see something done about the station. The railroad doesn't care, he says, so the town should act. A new station on the south side, with the present unsightly structure on the north side replaced by a modern shopping center, including a post office,

Main Line Ministers Plan Mass Meeting

Committee Formed to Consider Preaching Mission for Local Section

TENTATIVE DATES SET

Main Line ministers have formed a temporary committee, headed by the Rev. Howard Wayne Smith, D. D., pastor of the Ardmore Baptist Church, to plan a mass-meeting on the Main Line in connection with the National Preaching Mission in Philadelphia, November 29 to December 2.

The Rev. Albert C. Kanzinger, pastor of St. Paul's Lutheran Church, has been named secretary.

Appointments were made this week at a meeting of twelve Main Line ministers at the Ardmore Baptist Church. Among those present were:

The Rev. Louis W. Pitt, St. Mary's Church, Ardmore; the Rev. Roger C. Stimson, Ardmore Methodist Church; the Rev. Franklin Duncombe, Methodist Episcopal Church, Bala-Cynwyd; the Rev. Herbert Walter Bieber, D. D., Presbyterian Church of the Covenant of Bala-Cynwyd.

The Rev. Claude L. Heilenman, St. Luke's Methodist Episcopal Church, Bryn Mawr; the Rev. Ivan O. Wilson, Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church; the Rev. B. L. Scott, D. D., Lower Merion Baptist Church, Bryn Mawr; the Rev. W. Vernon Middleton, Narberth Methodist Episcopal Church; the Rev. J. H. W. Main, of Villanova, retired.

It is likely that the mass-meeting will be held in the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church, Montgomery avenue, while the date will be either November 30 or December 1.

The Philadelphia affair will be sponsored by the Federal Council of Churches of Christ and the attempt will be made to bring the Rev. Dr. E. Stanley Jones, missionary to India and author of several best sellers in the religious book field.

Mr. Duncombe was appointed chairman of the committee to decide the place and time of the meeting on the Main Line.

The Rev. Dr. E. A. E. Palmquist, executive secretary of the Philadelphia Federation of Churches, spoke

Junior Community Club to Hold "Open House"

The Junior Section of the Woman's Community Club of Narberth will start its 1936-37 season with an "open house" for new members on October 8. The place, the clubrooms. The time, 8.15. And the entertainment: First, a welcoming speech by Mrs. Spencer Smith, president of the club. Then a short play, entitled "Anything Goes," which has been ably coached by Mrs. Robert Conly. And last, but not least, the balance of the evening to be spent playing bridge, with, of course, refreshments in charge of the hostesses of the evening—the Hospitality Committee, under the efficient leadership of its chairman, Mrs. Ed Fisher. The usual large "party" crowd is expected, so come early to secure your favorite place.

The board will meet Monday, October 12, at the home of Mrs. Spencer Smith, Hampden avenue.

The first formal meeting of the club will be held Thursday, October 22.

Narberth avenues, Merion, was seriously injured last Tuesday when he jumped from his bicycle in order to avoid being run over by an automobile. He struck his head with full force against a fireplug and was knocked unconscious. His condition was very serious for twenty-four hours. X-rays were taken and no fractures were discovered. He is slowly recovering.

Public Cooperation Asked To Aid Borough's Mardi Gras October 30

Narberth's Mardi Gras will be held on Mischief Night, Friday, October 30.

The Halloween festivity was made an annual event by vote of the Narberth Business Council at its first fall meeting Monday night in the Arcadia Restaurant Green Room.

In order to make the Mardi Gras even more elaborate than heretofore contributions are solicited from residents,

Speaks for Dairymen

A. H. LAUTERBACH
of Narberth, general manager of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, whose testimony before the State Milk Control Board this week helped dairymen get a 20% increase in raw milk prices.

Main Line Will Pay Cent More for Milk

Experts Say Farmers Were Losing at Present Price

EXCEPTIONS ALLOWED

Along with the rest of the Philadelphia area, the Main Line will have its price of milk raised one cent a quart beginning October 6.

Advance notice was given Tuesday when a hearing was held in the mayor's office, Philadelphia, attended by 300 dairy farmers, distributors, institutions and housewives. Favored by a majority of the State Milk Control Board, the increase will not effect prices to hospitals or charitable institutions.

Asked to confirm whether the price would affect prices locally, Dr. George W. Grim, milk control officer for this district, said: "Yes, but we (his office) have nothing to do with the economics in the case. Our job is to see that the milk supply meets health requirements."

Howard Eisaman, chairman of the Milk Control Board, said farmers now receiving $2.50 a hundred pounds for their milk will get from $2.94 to $2.98. According to A. H. Lauterbach, of Narberth, general manager of the Interstate Milk Producers' Association, figures compiled by Pennsylvania State College show that it costs the farmer $2.95 a hundred pounds to produce milk.

The new price will still be from one to three cents a quart lower than in surrounding areas, it was said.

Boro Library Starts New Student Service

Groups of Books Will be Circulated Direct From School

A new service to the schools has been inaugurated by the Narberth Community Library, according to Miss Clara E. Follette, librarian. In co-operation with Principal W. James Drennan of the borough schools, a plan will be put in effect to increase the availability of books to students.

The Library will send groups of books to the school, periodically, for supplementary use on such subjects and for such grades as the teachers may request, also a few books for home reading which are not available in the school libraries. The books will circulate from the school just as they do from the community library.

This will not interfere with the services given to St. Margaret's boys and girls, nor to the township grade and high schools.

The number of books to be sent to the school will not be so great that there will not be plenty for those who wish to use the library after school hours.

W. C. T. U. Will Meet 5th

The Narberth Chapter of the W. C. T. U. will hold its first fall meeting in the Baptist Church Monday, at 2.30 p. m.

Character Building Goal of Instruction

So Principal Drennan Tells Narberth P. T. A. at Fall Opening

EDUCATION GROUP 7TH

The Rev. Cletus A. Senft gave the invocation at the opening meeting of the Narberth Parent and Teacher Association at the Narberth Public School Monday evening, when the new president, Mrs. Edmund Allen Whitting, presided.

The Salute to the Flag followed when Mrs. Frank Schrepfer, president of the Harold D. Speakman Post of the American Legion, gave instruction on the proper method of saluting the flag. Scout William Briner led the salute.

Dr. Walter Steckbeck, secretary of the School Board, gave a short talk, stating that the first need of the school was a good principal and teachers, which the Narberth school has. The success of educating the child depends on the faculty and the co-operation of the parents. He wished the Parent and Teacher Association success for the season.

A short musical program followed, when Mr. Crouthmal, violinist, played "Meditation." Mrs. Wesley P. Dunning was the accompanist. The theme of the P. T. A. was also announced. It is "Character Building, a Home and School Responsibility."

W. J. Drennan, speaker of the evening, emphatically stated that there can be no better objective than character building in both the home and the school, for all education must lead to the needs and interest of the individual and of requirements of society.

He also said that no school curriculum remains the same year after year. Some things must be thrown out to meet the changing conditions in the world and new things added. It is not only what the child learns in school, but what he receives on the outside in the way of personal experience that aids him. He also spoke of the co-curricular work, such as moving pictures, plays, clubs, athletics and other factors which aid in giving the child an all-round education. Mr. Drennan also stated that

Fortunate Montgomery

Regardless of the outcome of the Presidential election, it is apparent that the Republicans will greatly increase their representation in the House of Representatives. Actual control is unlikely unless the swing to the Republicans now under way develops in the next five weeks to landslide proportions.

Whether there is a shift in control or not, the opposition to President Roosevelt in Congress, providing he is re-elected, is certain to be more aggressive and better organized than was the case with the handful of Republicans who were members of the lower branch during the last four years.

The party will oppose the New Deal policies as an active minority, if they fall short of becoming an actual majority in the next Congress.

The weakness of their position in the House is bound to be the fact that a large number of the new members, inexperienced in legislative work, will be detached and discursive in their efforts—short on organization.

These members will have to be whipped into an operating unit, if real accomplishment is to be made, either as majority or a minority.

In a situation of this sort, Montgomery County enjoys an ideal position. The re-election of Mr. Ditter is conceded. He will sit in the next Congress as a member of proven ability. He is thoroughly grounded by experience. He has been in the House throughout Mr. Roosevelt's tenure of the Presidency.

He has seen the New Deal develop from its birth, and is among that inconsiderable minority in the current Congress, the members of which are bound to wield a tremendous influence in the sessions which begin next January.

Montgomery is exceptionally fortunate in such representation in a vitally important period in the nation's history.

That's My Story

The Swank Main Line
Let's talk about you for a change. There are two kinds of you. One, vastly in the majority on this "swank Main Line," is regarded with a healthy respect and, by many, with covetous envy—because of the following composite picture that you present:

You have culture, poise and appreciation of life that goes with good parentage and environment and a college, and perhaps private school, education. You have traveled extensively, though as a class you are not able to do what a few of our Main Liners do—make this their home only between visits to Florida in winter, New England in summer, and Europe autumns.

You were hard hit by the depression, losing greatly in capital as well as in income. Well, thank God and joining hope with the forecasters, you are assured a prosperous business cycle of perhaps six years or more. . . . You are Philadelphia's best customers, best patrons of opera, the theatre, charitable institutions, and, in general, the entire field of art and education.

Your children are given the best educational facilities in Lower Merion's public as well as private schools, that can be had in any community anywhere. You pay well but usually without demur, for the comforts and luxuries of an ultra-urban suburban community—such as school sports, school bus transportation (whereas your parents had to walk), good water, good electric, gas and telephone service, and, despite certain defects which we may go into another time, above-average service from township police, health and other authorities. Your roads are well paved, your libraries well staffed and stocked. . . . but you know all this.

Your home life is nearly ideal. The wife has household help and labor-saving devices that lift her far above the average in freedom to do other things than old-fashioned back-breaking dawn-to-dusk household chores. She keeps happily occupied, thanks to bridge club and woman's club, nearby friends, theatre, etc., and music and magazines and books. She takes an increasing interest in the community, and in politics.

The husband is able to devote considerable time to sports, hobbies, the home and his wife and children. Yes, he has more leisure than the average man, and better mental equipment to make use of that time. Unfortunately, in Bala-Cynwyd in recent years, he has not devoted much time to the Neighborhood Club. Also unfortunately, in my humble estimation, he is as a class too smug and satisfied with conditions economic and political, to devote much thought and effort to improving them. Why should he?—He doesn't even bother, most of the time, to improve his own mental equipment. However, there is a large minority of these "hims" who do keep mentally fit; one way of spotting them is by the type of magazines they get. (Note those red-covered copies of Time at the postoffice early Friday.)

Both man and wife, here in this community of ours, have better insight into the psychology of their mate and children, than the average. With no exact knowledge of the percentage of Main Line divorcees, I nevertheless, feel safe in observing that it is far less than America's average, which is one to every six marriages.

As for the children, that's a subject in itself, which I'll postpone. Next week I expect to point out a fairly obvious but to me interesting and significant contrast—between you, the Main Line's dominant class, and those who live here to serve you, or who just live here, on a less favored scale of living. This contrast, as I shall point out, is one reason for our police problem and our youth problem.

Put Out Auto Fires

Narberth's firemen were called upon to extinguish two automobile blazes this week. Wednesday afternoon Roy Williams' machine at 110 Merion avenue, caught ablaze, with a damage of $25. Sunday afternoon an auto at Elmwood and Wynnewood avenues became ignited.

Political Pot

Official opening date of the Main Line Republican headquarters at Lancaster avenue and Church road, Ardmore, has been postponed from October 3 to October 14. Peter C. Hess, Republican leader, will preside and speakers will include Congressman J. William Ditter, Ambler, and other candidates. Groups to be represented at the affair include the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women, Republican Citizens' Committee, Young Republican Clubs, Independent Coalition of American Women, Republican Association.

Organized last week at county Republican headquarters in Norristown was the Montgomery County branch of the Landon-Knox Republican Service League of Pennsylvania. Veterans to head the group are R. L. Hemmerly, Melrose Park, chairman; Charles N. Nuss, Norristown, secretary; Calvin W. Riggs, Conshohocken, treasurer. Main Liners on the Executive Committee include Frank A. Schrepfer, Narberth; H. Sibley Lee, Ardmore; Joseph Loane and William Williams, both of Bryn Mawr.

The Democrats don't mind borrowing a good idea, and now there are "Roosevelt Dollar Certificates." Last Friday at the home of Mrs. E. Waring Wilson in Rosemont, the Democratic Women of Lower Merion Township chose Mrs. McCarthy Hanger, Cynwyd, chairman, and Mrs. Charles Thompson, Merion, vice-chairman, of a committee to promote the sale of these certificates.

J. Hansell French, State Secretary of Agriculture, was the principal speaker Wednesday night at a dinner meeting of the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee held at Merion Mansions.

Other speakers included Samuel K. White, Merion attorney and Democratic candidate for the State Legislature from the First District, and James W. Potter, Montgomery County Commissioner. John T. Durnin, Penn Wynne, chairman, presided.

The meeting formally opened the Democratic campaign in the Main Line section of Montgomery County. Herbert C. Mode, of Penn Wynne, has been named campaign manager.

There are 16,289 more Democrats registered in Montgomery County now than a year ago, according to the State Elections Bureau at Harrisburg.

However, the New Dealers still trail the G. O. P. in Montgomery County about 3 to 1, there being 108,444 registered Republicans and 34,481 Democrats. In this district (Bridgeport, West Conshohocken, Upper Merion, Lower Merion, Narberth), there are 31,099 voters registered—15,615 women, 15,484 men.

Main Line Democratic headquarters are now open at 50 W. Lancaster avenue, Ardmore, in charge of Mrs. Alice McAndrew, of Ardmore. The headquarters is sponsored by the Lower Merion and Narberth Democratic Committee, John T. Durnin, Overbrook Hills, chairman.

President Roosevelt has transformed the Democratic Party into one "with the hall marks of radicalism and because of his politics has become dangerous," State Senator Theodore Lane Bean told 200 delegates from 10

"To Mary—With Love,"
"Magnificent Obsession"
Attractions at Narberth

Starring Myrna Loy and Warner Baxter, "To Mary—With Love" is the week-end attraction at the Narberth Theatre. The play, presenting the heights and depths of a young couple's fortunes during a decade, is noteworthy for the historical review it gives and its fidelity in reproducing changing conditions and fashions. An added attraction at the Saturday one o'clock matinee is Jane Withers in "Gentle Julia."

Monday and Tuesday brings one of the most talked-of productions of the year, "Magnificent Obsession," with Irene Dunne, star of several musicals, and Robert Taylor, current idol of the feminine fans.

Wednesday (Cash Award Night) will see Guy Kibbee in "The Big Noise," a hilarious comedy.

A return engagement of "State Fair" is scheduled for Thursday. In this delightful rustic comedy, the late Will Rogers is seen at his best in a part he loved. Janet Gaynor is co-starred.

"Rhythm on Range," "His Brother's Wife" and "March of Time"—Egyptian

"Rhythm on Range," now at the Egyptian, has seven song hits nicely done by Bing Crosby, a pleasing story and scenery, and really funny humor by bazooka-playing Bob Burns and imitable 19-year-old Martha Raye, who nearly steals the show.

"His Brother's Wife," next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, is a thrilling exciting romantic drama starring Barbara Stanwyck, Robert Taylor and Joseph Calleia. The latest "March of Time" will be one of the accompanying short subjects.

"Women are Trouble," Thursday's (Bank Night) feature, is a real life newspaper story of events behind the headlines, with Stuart Erwin as lachrymose star reporter, Paul Kelly as hard-bitten city editor, and Ruth Nolan, Kitty McHugh and Raymond Hatton.

"Three Cheers For Love," a sparkling musical comedy, will conclude the Egyptian's week.

WHAT'S THIS?

• This is a "hang-up handset"—a modern type of telephone instrument used on wall locations in kitchens, playrooms, garages, shops and stores or on the side of a desk or table where working space is limited. It provides handy telephone service within easy reach—yet it's never in the way.

Extension telephones save time and steps; give extra protection and privacy. For complete information call the Business Office or ask any telephone employee.

BUSINESS BITS

There's a nice new florist shop opening up next week on Narberth avenue on the hill between Haverford avenue and the railroad. The proprietors seem quite likable and well-informed.

That new assistant of the Maguire boys at the Forest Service Station, Haverford and Forest avenues, is Rene Pagliano, who hails from Nice, France, and is not only a good motor mechanic, but also a swell guy.

Your attention is invited to Joe Whiteside's food advertising running each week in Our Town. He is the only Narberth food merchant who patronizes your community paper. Also the Whiteside advertising is worth while—because the prices and quality are right.

The National Bank of Narberth in an ad this week invites your attention. So do several other consistent advertisers who by their merchandising policy are making this community the type you and I are proud of.

A novel ad is sponsored by J. Howard Mecke, who offers a million dollars. . . . And no doubt you noticed the Siefert page.

The Kathlene Beauty Shoppes in Cynwyd and Narberth have an attractive special for the customers this week.

Well advertised, well stocked and staffed, a good local men's wear store would make money for someone alert to his opportunity.

Military Wedding Marks Ann Speed's Marriage to Army Lieutenant

St. Paul's Chapel in the Philadelphia Navy Yard was the scene of a military wedding Saturday, when Miss Ann Polk Speed, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Barrett Speed, of Chestnut avenue, Narberth, was married to Lieutenant Allison Richard Hartman, U. S. A., son of Mr. and Mrs. Creighton Hartman, of Tyre Valley. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Joseph Casey, chaplain of the Navy Yard.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin fashioned on empire lines, with a deep yoke of rose point lace and long, close-fitting sleeves. Her veil of tulle, which was very long, was trimmed across the front with a coronet of the lace. She carried a lace handkerchief that had been carried by five generations of brides in her family. Her bouquet was of madonna lilies.

Mrs. Joseph Missimer, of Devon, the matron of honor, wore a gown of turquoise blue moire fashioned on empire lines. She wore a wreath of gold wheat in her hair and carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. John McClenahan, of Villanova, and Mrs. William L. McPherson, of Fortress Monroe, Va., wore gowns similar to that of the matron of honor.

Captain William L. McPherson, of Fortress Monroe, Va., acted as best man for Lieutenant Hartman and the ushers included Mr. Joseph Missimer, of Devon, and Mr. Hugh B. Speed, Jr., brother of the bride.

Mrs. Speed wore a gown of duobonnet crepe with a matching hat of duvatee crepe. Her corsage was of pink roses. Her mother, Mrs. Samuel Pepper, of Memphis, Tenn., wore black chiffon and a corsage of orchids. Her hat was of black felt.

Immediately following the ceremony a buffet supper was given for the bridal party and the wedding cake was cut with the bridegroom's sword.

Among the out-of-town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Walker Rose, of Helena, Ark.; Colonel and Mrs. Forrest E. Willford, of Panama; Mr. and Mrs. Asa Carnichael, of New York City; Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brown, of Bethlehem. Mrs. Carnichael is the former Miss Phoebe Lucas, of Wynnewood, while Mrs. Brown is the former Miss Virginia L. Chewning, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Chewning, of Cynwyd.

After their wedding trip to Canada, Lieutenant Hartman and his bride will be at home at Fortress Monroe, Va.

DOG OWNERS WARNED

Guard Pets Carefully, They Are Told; Rabies Evident

Main Line dog owners once again have been warned to guard their pets carefully. Though no rabies epidemic is in evidence, several isolated cases have re-occurred and residents are advised to take proper precautions.

Several weeks ago a number of Main Line dogs were bitten by a stray animal of which nothing is known. A number of dogs subsequently were placed under State quarantine in Berwyn, where one case of rabies developed.

More recently an animal on the outskirts of Wayne was sent to a dog hospital for observation after it had attacked the daughter of the home. Two days later the dog died and on Tuesday the report of the analysis revealed it had developed rabies. The young woman who was bitten is taking the Pasteur treatment and it is reported by her physician there is no cause for alarm. Her sister, though not bitten, also is taking the treatment as a precautionary measure.

Main Line Bus Fare Prices Are Reduced

Aronimink Transportation Co.
Cuts Rates on All Lines

Main Line bus patrons will benefit by a reduction in fares which went into effect Sept. 24, the Aronimink Transportation Company announces. This company recently took over the bus lines which run from Philadelphia city line through the Main Line communities and the new and commodious red passenger buses which it immediately put on Lancaster pike and communicating thoroughfares are now a familiar site.

The fare reductions come in the form of tickets at less than the standard ten cent fare previously charged, whose prices are proportionately lower according to the quantity purchased. There are also children's tickets at reduced rates.

When the company first took over the lines it announced it would apply to the Public Service Commission for permission to bring the Main Line rates into agreement with those it was already charging on its other lines, which were generally lower. This week's announcement is the making good of this promise.

The new fare schedules show that tickets for children under 12 years of age may be purchased at five for 25 cents, or 5 cents apiece. There are also school tickets in books of 50 for $2.50. Commutation tickets may be bought in books of 50 for $3.75 or 30 for $2.50, bringing the single fares respectively to 7.5 cents and 8.3 cents. There is also a strip of eleven tickets sold for $1.00—or 9.1 cents a ticket.

The 7.5 cents ticket book is good for 60 days from purchase. The kiddies' tickets, the 30-ticket books and 11-ticket strips may be purchased from bus operators and all classes of tickets may be purchased at the following locations:

Aronimink Transportation Company's Garage, 909 Lancaster avenue, Bryn Mawr; Llewellyn's Drug Stores at Lancaster and Cricket avenues, Ardmore, and Lancaster avenue and Sixty-third street, Philadelphia; Media Drug Store, Fifty-fourth street and City Line, Philadelphia, and Strawbridge & Clothier, Ardmore, Pa.

Girl Scout News

Ship ahoy! Girl Scouts of fifteen or more wake up and join the new scout group, the Mariners! This group meets every two weeks on Wednesday evening at 7 P. M. in the scout wing of the Narberth Community Building on Windsor avenue, Narberth. The first sailing was Wednesday, September 23. The next will be at the same hour on Wednesday, October 7, sailing from the same port. Miss Christine Mahl, of Narberth is the skipper. The crew? All you Girl Scouts of fifteen or over who will enlist at the time of the next sailing.

Read the Mariner's Log and enlist. MARINER'S LOG
Latitude—39 deg. 56 min. north.
Longitude—75 deg. 8 min. west.
September 23, 1936.

The striking of seven bells by first mate Alice Moore called "all hands on deck" for the meeting of the Girl Scout Mariner Ship. Skipper Christine Mahl explained the regulations for becoming a Mariner. To become a member of a Girl Scout Mariner Ship a girl must be at least fifteen years of age and a tenderfoot Girl Scout; have paid annual dues of fifty cents to Girl Scouts Incorporated, before she is invested as a midshipmite; and present a Mariner physical examination certificate and a parent's permission form for membership in a ship and one for every cruise.

A brief outline of the Mariner program was given and the Mariners were instructed in the noble art of telling time by bells. After a few errors, this was mastered and we started on our way as real seafarers.

The watches having been divided, Jane Seasholtz and Phil Folwell were elected as Bos'ns of the Port and Starboard watches respectively. Plans for activities throughout the year were discussed, and the requirements for midshipmite read. Then serious study on the types of watercraft began.

The first mate instructed us in the learning of two chanteys, one of which was John Masefield's "Cargoes."

Next meeting's date was set for October 7, as we plan to meet every two weeks.

Those Mariners participating were Jane Seasholtz, Betty Seasholtz, Phyllis Folwell, Prue Fitch, Caroline Cathcart, Mary Brown and Mary West.

MARY BROWN, Yeoman.

This Mariners group is only one of four open to all Girl Scouts of the Main Line who are fifteen or over. The three other groups are: Dramatics and Puppetry under the direction of Miss Lucretia Williams; Pioneering under the temporary direction of Miss Helen Melvin, an Eagle and our own field captain. This group will hold its first meeting on Friday, October 2, at seven o'clock in the scout headquarters at the Bryn Mawr Presbyterian Church. The fourth group is the Mounted Troop under the capable and pleasant leadership of Mrs. Guy L. Cornman.

There will be a Pioneer Week-end at the Folwell Farm this week-end. Be sure to find out about it and attend first letting your leader know that you will be there.

Leaders' meeting on Monday, October 5, at the regular time and place. A good attendance is requested.

Narberth Troop 125 held an outdoor meeting Monday at 7:15 P. M. at which Miss Melvin was a visitor. Many toasted marshmallows were consumed. Miss Lois Staley, as lieutenant, is helping Captain Ingeborg Thaysen.

The borough of Narberth has bought material and made arrangements for the building of an outside stone fireplace for the Girl and Boy Scouts of the borough.

Girl Scout Troop No. 8 held its third meeting Tuesday evening. We will go on a breakfast hike, Saturday, October 3. We will meet at the scout house at 7 A. M.

TIME OUT
With TOMMY MACKLIN

A few stars of long standing blossomed anew on the football horizon last week. Particularly pleasing to local gridiron enthusiasts was the fine showing of Harvey Buek at Villanova. His speed and his open-field running abilities carried him across the goal line twice during the P. M. C. game for two touchdowns, the first one breaking a tie score to put the Main Line school in the van for the rest of the game. His last effort came late in the final period and was only an added touch to a splendid performance during his entire tenure of the left half berth. His ankle was injured during the closing moments of the game and he was replaced. We hope the old knee holds up, because that is the only thing that stands in Harvey's way of being one of the outstanding backs of the east.

Frank Coffman scored the touchdown against Albright that enabled Franklin and Marshall to squeeze out a 7 to 6 victory in the game at Lancaster. Coffman and Buek were stable mates on the greatest team ever assembled at Lower Merion.

The eyes of the Main Line will be focused on Franklin Field next Saturday when two more favorite sons break into the spotlight wearing the colors of the Red and Blue—Dominick Polilli, stalwart tackle, considered by many as Lower Merion's all-time supreme lineman, and Bill Miller, halfback, one of the now famous "Miller Boys" who have graced the line-ups of Lower Merion for the past ten years. These two boys are having their first fling at Varsity posts on Pere Penn's team. The odds are top heavy that they will both be regulars.

Penn Charter brought a stalwart line and a slashing, clever backfield to Pennypacker Field last Friday, and the result was just as predicted, a close but well-earned victory for the lads from Queen's Lane. The closeness was not evidenced by the score, but Al Adam's boys were on the verge of scoring a couple of touchdowns themselves. The last drive put on by the Maroon team was a beauty. They traveled the full length of the field only to have the final whistle blow to end their long offensive just short of the goal line.

Johnny Powell's team was the best machine assembled at Penn Charter in the last dozen years. A veteran team that carried plenty of weight on the line, a versatile, hard-running backfield, and a cohesion of effort that is not expected so early in the season, rushed and passed the Maroon eleven off their feet.

Local fans have every reason to feel proud of their team's showing and they may look forward to a season that will surely be successful. Lower Merion will undoubtedly be able to hold her own in the Suburban League, and there is little chance of her running into many teams this season that boast the power and versatility of the Penn Charter ensemble.

Easton will be met in another doubtful game tomorrow afternoon on the banks of the Delaware. The up-State eleven is as heavy as last season and parades a backfield of veteran stars. It is this column's opinion that Easton will make it two straight over "our boys," although we reserve that right to hope for an upset. Adam's team will be better tomorrow than they were a week ago, and if they can make a few breaks for themselves, they may come home with a victory.

Penfield Downs to Plant 2500 California Petunias

Believing that landscaping plays one of the most important parts in the development of a new community, the Penfield Corporation has just ordered 2500 Giant California petunias from Southern California and 500 trees for its $2,500,000 development at Penfield Downs, Haverford Township.

The trees selected include sugar maple, sycamore, oak, dogwood, flowering crabapple and flowering cherry and are in addition to the more than 100 trees already planted on the development.

The Penfield Corporation has just started work on the second unit of six houses in the development. These homes will be all-stone and individually designed to meet the needs of the average family.

tain winner as Narberth scored a brace in its eighth and one in the final round.

In the fourth Walt Azpell hit out to first, but Lou Spaziana walked and Harry Pieper beat out a roller to third base. Bill Vliet, Brookline sent a scorcher past the hot sack, scoring Spaziana and Pieper pulled up at third when the ball slipped through Joel Rubincam in left. Woelfel also beat out a slow one to third and Pieper crossed. Georgie Gallagher skied to right after which Jack McNally singled to left, sending in Vliet. When "Ruby" failed to grab the ball Woelfel continued to the plate.

Plenty of Thrills

Sunday's game was a thriller, yet lacked the fire of any game played in the recent Coatesville series. Severn's good hurling ultimately went for naught when Narberth pushed over its run in the sixth.

Reynolds bounced to second for an out, then Mickey Gavin, borough shortstopper, reached first safely when Second-basemen Harry Pieper could not field his slow roller fast enough for the assist. When Tan Ralston lifted a fly to right he went on for two bases because the ball struck a limb of the tree and bounded away from Sammy Schaeffer. Gavin later sprinted across the rubber on Joey Burns' fly to center.

Brookline gave Narberth all kinds of trouble, especially in the third and fourth, when the Hare gang loaded the bases. But Reynolds was there in the clinches, as eight strikeouts will prove without a doubt. He allowed only four scattered hits. Brookline would have knotted the score in the seventh if Harry Ralston had not made a low catch of Schaeffer's liner after two were down. Jack McNally, who had doubled, was waiting impatiently to be brought home when Schaeffer connected.

Beswick Hurt

In the Brookline fourth Al Beswick, its firstsacker, was knocked unconscious by a collision at third on an attempted hit-and-run play. He failed to respond to first-aid given by Dr. Frank Hancock and was taken by Lower Merion Police to the Bryn Mawr Hospital. He suffered a concussion.

Beswick singled to open the inning and Spaziana was hit by pitcher. On the attempt hit-and-run with Harry Pieper batting, the latter missed the ball. Catcher Jack Eachus' throw to Joey Burns nailed Beswick, but Burns was stunned and dropped the ball.

Narberth connected for seven hits off Severn. Tanny Ralston led the locals with a double and two singles while Jack McNally poled a two-bagger and single for the Haremen. Harry Pieper, former Narberth infielder, gave a sparkling performance in both games at second base.

would be the solution, he believes—and might be self-supporting.

And then there is the matter of a swimming pool on the playground. That, Mr. Cabrey believes, is made practical by Narberth's one-race population.

The talk was in the nature of a citizen's praise of his home town. The history of the community and its outstanding accomplishments were interpreted from the viewpoint of Narberth's self-governing status and with due appreciation for the town's opportunity to buy services at cost from surrounding Lower Merion. The Fourth of July celebrations, the baseball team, the playground are sources of pride to the speaker.

Mr. Cabrey, a vehement liberal, made much of the fact that Narberth, once the bone-dry home of prohibition leaders, is now reputed to be the wettest spot in Montgomery County. Sunday movies, he said, were voted down because, although non-commercial baseball is permitted, commercial shows are a different story.

To the Community Service Committee of the Rotary Club, whose chairman, Eugene H. Davis, introduced the speaker, Mr. Cabrey pointed to the need of an historical survey of this section and suggested that the club encourage such studies by posting prizes.

he was happy to work with the outside clubs in the borough and he had been greatly aided by their programs.

He also spoke of the Guidance Course in the seventh grade, entitled "You and Your School," and the eighth-grade course, "You and Your Work," both of which are designed to start the child thinking of his or her future.

Mr. Drennan introduced the members of the faculty.

Diphtheria Prevention Urged for Boro Pupils

Notices were sent yesterday to those Narberth parents whose children have not been tested, or, having been tested, have shown positive results in regard to immunity to diphtheria. A negative score is necessary to show immunity to this disease.

It is requested that the parent sign the notice and return to the Narberth Public School not later than Monday, October 5.

The cost of the treatment is 25 cents and will be given at the Narberth School on Wednesday, October 14, at 9.30 to 11.30 A. M., by a competent physician and nurse.

Parents of pre-school children who wish to take advantage of this opportunity may have their children treated at this time.

Eighty-five per cent of the entire school (excluding the kindergarten whose pupils thus far have lacked the opportunity of inoculation) have become immunized through these treatments.

Too bad there's no men's wear store in this community. . . .

There are food markets in this community that could help themselves, this paper, and you—by publishing their ads in space such as this.

If a hardware store were to advertise in this space, its sales message would be helpful to you, to your paper, and to your hardware store.

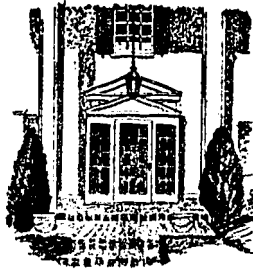

Whatever the business or the profession, its publicity might well be inserted, inexpensively, in this space.

The bakery

that advertises in this space will have its message read by nearly all the residents of this community.
